Drazí přátelé!

I am very pleased to invite you, on behalf the International Young Lawyers Association (AIJA), to a very special 52nd Annual Congress in Prague, August 26-30, 2014.

The vibrant capital of the Czech Republic, also called the “Mother of Cities”, looks back at more than a thousand years of rich history. In the 14th century, Prague was the capital of the Holy Roman Empire, and it is still a political, economic and cultural center of Central Europe. In 1349, the famous Emperor Charles IV inspired the formation of the Charles University, the oldest university in Central Europe, with the prestigious Faculty of Law being among the first four faculties established.

Charles IV also wanted to make Prague one of the most beautiful cities of the world...and he certainly succeeded (although the credit, admittedly, also goes to others...). In 1992, Prague’s extensive historic center was included in the UNESCO list of World Heritage Sites. One can but marvel at the grandiose Gothic buildings lining majestic squares and cozy streets, side by side with numerous wonderful architectural examples from other periods of the city’s long history.

Prague is eclectic, magical and lovely and a great location to host AIJA’s Congress in 2014!

And the logo of our Congress not only stands for an attribute of our host city. Everything that attendance at the Congress offers you will come from the hearts of those who work on making it happen:

Cutting edge education: AIJA’s 20 Commissions and Sub-Commissions, under the competent guidance of our Work Coordinators, have arranged a top-class academic program with working sessions and workshops for you to freshen up your skills on the latest issues in various areas of law. This program will again be accompanied by the optional specialized pre-Congress seminar and skills training for all participants.

Outstanding networking opportunities: Starting with the speed networking session at the beginning of the Congress, you will throughout the event have vast possibilities to mingle and network with like-minded career building legal professionals from all around the globe.

Sound Voice of the Profession: AIJA’s Human Rights Committee is once again inviting you to a special session devoted to human rights matters. We offer every participant a chance to actively contribute and, by doing so, to show that AIJA IS the Voice of the Profession of career building lawyers.

Top social program: The enthusiastic and tireless members of our Organizing Committee have picked the best places in the Mother of Cities for an unforgettable social program. Be it a roof-top terrace with a breathtaking view, the impressive premises of the Faculty of Law, the first Gothic building in all of Bohemia, a trendy night club or, on the occasion of the traditional AIJA Home Hospitality, a Czech colleague’s dining room – we will bring you to special and even secret spots that you will not discover otherwise!

And if all this has not convinced you that the 2014 Congress is a “must attend”, then remember that it will be the perfect environment to experience the unique AIJA spirit that you know when you see it, to meet long-time AIJA friends, and of course to make new ones.

I heartily invite you to join us for a spectacular Congress in lovely Prague.

Sincerely,

Anita Schlöpfer

Join AIJA 2014 Congress in Prague? A no-Brainer!

Irrespective of its location, an AIJA congress is a totally unique experience. One gets to meet 600 young career-building lawyers from all around the world, visit wonderful venues, experience home hospitality from local colleagues, and last but not least, enjoy a high-quality scientific program.

But why would people specifically want to go to Prague?

For its great location in the heart of Europe!

Prague is easily accessible from anywhere by air, rail or road. Václav Havel Prague international airport operates flights from all major international destinations. European lawyers may reach Prague by car or train within a couple of hours.

For the history!

Prague has been the political, cultural and economic capital of central Europe since its foundation more than 1,100 years ago. It is home to a number of famous cultural attractions, many of which survived the violence and destruction of 20th-century Europe. The extensive historic centre of Prague is a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1992.

For the beer!

Who never heard of "Budweiser" and "Pilsner". Originating from the names of two Czech cities, these words are eponymous for quality beer in many countries around the world. And it is easy to understand why: Czech beer is simply THE BEST! excellent – and amazingly affordable...

For the culture!

The city boasts more than ten major museums, as well as numerous theatres, galleries, cinemas and other historical exhibits. Make sure to experience performances at one of the popular marionette theatres. Or do you prefer to spontaneously head to a classical music concert? Many of them are organized daily across various historical sites around town.

For its cosmopolitan flair!

Prague has only 1,3 million inhabitants. But more than 4.1 million international visitors are drawn to town annually. And its rich history is not the city's sole attraction. Prague enjoys all the benefits of an international capital, uniquely combined with a post communistic atmosphere. Easy to understand why the city's large expat community simply cannot leave...

Because everything is walking distance!

This is what AIJA participants love: everything easily accessible in a matter of minutes. Forgot to pack something? No problem: the shopping streets are literally 2' from the hotel by foot. Planning a business meeting right after a working session? You will find all the needful just around the corner.

To fall in love!

We do not guarantee that you will fall in love with someone you meet in Prague. But we guarantee you will fall in love with Prague right after you walk from the Old Town Square over the Charles Bridge up to the Prague Castle.

Wholeheartedly

The Organizing Committee

9.00 - 18.00 PRE-CONGRESS SEMINAR The future of Arbitration and ADR Practice in Central and Eastern European Countries

Reviewing recent developments and current trends in the international arbitration and Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) arena, the seminar will analyse current best practice with a special focus on Central and Eastern Europe. What can Central and Eastern European countries teach us? Is there still any material difference in arbitration practice between Western and Central/Eastern Europe countries? What is to be expected when enforcing arbitral awards in Central and Eastern European countries? Is there room for general online procedures in arbitration and ADR? Along these lines, the Seminar will also provide you with an in depth analysis of system and mechanisms at the Czech Arbitration Court operating as the dispute resolution provider for .eu domain names.

COMMISSIONS: International Arbitration / Intellectual Property, Technology, Media and Telecom Commission

MEMBERS OF THE ORGANIZING COMMITTEE: Michelangelo Cicogna; Mark-Oliver Kühn; Justyna Szpara; Polina Permyakova; Eva Indruchová

Wednesday 27 August 2014

8.00 – 9.00 EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 1 Personal Branding 2.0

The primary objective of the working session is to investigate which role personal branding plays in a lawyer's professional success in today's market. We will look at the topic from various perspectives, including that of a sole practitioner, a partner in a multi-partner law firm, and an in-house counsel. In an interactive moderated program directed at both experienced and young lawyers, whether working as an attorney or in-house counsel, we will explore the creation, development and evolution of personal networks and relationships tools such as social media.

COMMISSIONS: Skills, Career, Innovation, Leadership and Learning / Corporate Counsel

GENERAL REPORTER: Steven de Schrijver

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 2 Don't hit the wall: How to deal with (and prevent) default in real estate projects

Your client or company comes across a default situation in a key construction project or in a strategic long-term lease. How will you cope with the most sensitive issues arising therefrom? When negotiating these deals, which clauses should you contemplate using and what precautions would you advise your client or company to take to address a default scenario? In this working session, co-sponsored by the Real Estate and Insolvency Commissions, we will provide you with a picture of how default arising in the context of construction and lease agreements is dealt with in practice, not only in a litigation scenario, but also when negotiating the relevant agreements, and provide you guidelines that may be useful when drafting an agreement or litigating, so you can avoid hitting the wall!

COMMISSIONS: Insolvency Law / Real Estate Law

GENERAL REPORTERS: Hilka Eckardt, Anna-Kaisa Remes and Marco Orlandi

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 3

Movement of high net worth individuals

As certain governments around the world struggle with fiscal deficits, their attention has turned to international tax evasion (illegal) and the perceived shortcomings of the international tax system from the point of view of tax avoidance (legal). In other regions we have seen unsettled economies combined with civil unrest. Families are seeking safer, more stable jurisdictions not just for themselves but for future generations as they look for long term security and are increasingly looking overseas for a solution.

How do our immigration, legal and tax systems cope with the realities and complexities of 21st century aging family life and the demand for economic security/stability? What are the particular challenges for practitioners in assisting these families? How does increasing governmental exchange of information and compliance requirements affect strategies for investment, tax planning and personal security. How does the global citizen manage a world of overlapping, often conflicting regulation?

COMMISSIONS: Immigration Law / Private Clients

GENERAL REPORTERS: Firza Ahmed and Michael Wells-Greco

12.00 – 13.00 COMMISSIONS MEETINGS

Insolvency Law

Real Estate law

Skills, Career, Innovation, Leadership and Learning

Private Clients

13.00 – 14.30 LUNCH FOR DELEGATES

13.00 – 14.30 FIRST TIMERS' LUNCH

If this is your first visit to the AIJA Congress, this makes you a first timer, even if you have participated in AIJA seminars or conferences before. The purpose of the first timers' lunch is twofold: (i) to explain AIJA from the inside and provide some useful tips on how to best get progressively involved in the life of the association, and (ii) to give first timers the opportunity to take an interest in the activities of the scientific commissions by directly engaging with their leaders. First timers and new members are most welcome to attend commission meetings (in charge of the organization of the scientific work) and committee meetings (in charge of the management of the association), in addition to the working sessions and workshops taking place during the congress.

14.30 – 16.00 WORKSHOP A

Open source software for dummies: Are you underestimating technology in your business transactions?

Are you a banking lawyer? A transactional lawyer? An IT lawyer? No matter your field of practice, you should attend this session, to (fully) understand the risks related to the use of open source software by your client or company. This workshop aims at providing to all lawyers - whether or not they are inhouse - the right knowledge to ensure awareness and compliance on this issue that can have, whichever is the industry involved, a disruptive impact if not correctly managed; an awareness that might become even more strategic as the internet of things is developing, extending the use of softwares - often OS - to the most various devices.

COMMISSIONS: Intellectual Property, Technology, Media and Telecom / Corporate Counsel

GENERAL REPORTERS: Julia Bhend and Sergio Calderara

14.30 – 16.00 WORKSHOP B

Inland transport

International inland transport is generally performed by road, railway, and in some case, inland water modes. Among these modes, the most common is road transport. Inland transport is, in many cases, separately regulated and contain potential traps for lawyers who are not from the jurisdiction in question, either with respect to the rules governing the liability of the carrier, or with respect to the regulatory side (several times deriving from the EU legislation), i.e. with respect to licenses, rules according to which foreign carriers are admitted to exploit cabotage, fuel surcharge rules etc. The aim of the workshop is to provide an overview about the current regime in force in different countries and to examine how the CMR Convention is applied and to see how national legislation have implemented EU rules under regulatory side, and how the national Courts have resolved conflicts between EU and national legislation.

COMMISSIONS: Distribution Law / Transport Law

GENERAL REPORTERS: Niels J. Friberg and Marco Lenti

14.30 – 16.00 WORKSHOP C

ABA SIL Session

Foreign investments - is it about law, business, culture, politics or something else? The Central & Eastern Europe example

16.00 – 17.00 COMMISSIONS MEETINGS

Corporate Counsel

Transport Law

Intellectual Property, Technology, Media and Telecom

17.30 – 18.30 VOICE OF THE PROFESSION SESSION

Human Rights on the Balance Sheet: a profit or a loss for businesses?

Venue: Faculty of Law

The Human Rights Committee invites you to attend and participate in a session exploring the intersection of human rights and business. Are human rights compatible with commercial success; is there a cost for businesses who fail to uphold those rights; and can businesses that promote human rights gain competitive advantage? What role do you have as a lawyer advising your clients on the risks and costs of ignoring human rights and what can your clients gain from taking corporate social responsibility seriously?

Scientific program

Thursday 28 August 2014

8.00 – 9.00 FINANCE FORUM

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 4

High growth companies and how to fund them – a real driver of economic growth?

We plan to address funding alternatives for high growth companies (i.e. companies with significant annual growth over time); opportunities and challenges that both entrepreneurs and investors may encounter in your jurisdiction. The working session will have a practical focus and will also cover corporate governance, commercial and regulatory opportunities and constraints.

COMMISSION: Corporate Acquisition & Joint Ventures

GENERAL REPORTERS: Kadri Kallas and Jesper Schönbeck

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 5

Settle for less? Or for more! Tips on timing, confidentiality and strategy in (multijurisdictional) settlement arrangements.

Most countries have a settlement rate of more than 50% in civil litigation cases filed in court. Even though the legal systems differ substantially from one to another, the tactics and considerations leading to settlements are comparable almost world-wide. In this working session we will analyze and discuss whether there are uniform strategies and/or uniform boundaries in international settlement negotiations. Also in antitrust procedures, settlement agreements seem to be applied ever more. Do the tactics to be used in these procedures differ from settlements in civil proceedings? A different approach applies to criminal procedures: since the criminal court is obliged to find the "truth", settlement procedures aiming at a conviction agreed by the accused, the prosecutor and the court may contradict the criminal procedure's very nature. In our working session we will create an opportunity for exchanging views and experiences to be applied in the context of settlement negotiations.

COMMISSIONS: Antitrust / Litigation / Commercial Fraud

GENERAL REPORTERS: Maïte Ottes, Karin Graf and Alexander von Saucken

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 6

Who is not afraid to be a company director?

The position of a director/managing director of a company has changed substantially during the past couple of years. Legislative changes, close monitoring by shareholders and the international economic and financial crisis have contributed to an increased attention towards management of companies. The expectations towards directors and managing directors have become much higher. Last but not least, also the media have developed a particular interest in company management, in particular, the remuneration of top management. This working session shall shed some light on these issues.

13.00 – 14.30 LUNCH

14.30 – 16.00 WORKSHOP D

Erin Brockovich turns European: is there an interest for class actions?

Class actions are often related and associated to the American legal culture, as it is illustrated by several movies including the famous "Erin Brockovich" picture. Although collective redress and class actions also exist in other jurisdictions in the world, notably in Europe, there are some differences arising from different legal and procedural cultures, especially between the Common Law and the Civil Law legal systems. The purpose and the interest of this workshop will be, not only to identify such differences as well as the common points between the collective redress and class actions in various jurisdictions, but also to have practical tips and feed-back on experiences from lawyers used to such proceedings. There will be also a particular focus on class actions in the anti-trust field, which is one of the main areas for such actions, as shown by the recent proposals from the EU Commission in order to encourage and regulate such actions.

COMMISSION: Distribution Law (with the support of Antitrust and Litigation)

GENERAL REPORTERS: Jean-Philippe Arroyo and Joost Fanoy

14.30 – 16.00 WORKSHOP E

Sports and Insurance

Sports events have become the perfect paradigm of highly crowded social events. From football to baseball, top sports game days equal a unique challenge for organizers in terms of safety for both those participating in such an event and those just attending as committed supporters. Whatever sport we might think of, it seems clear that organizers need to stick to thorough legal frameworks when it comes to the safety aspects to be considered when putting together a big sports feast such as the Superbowl, a F1 Grand Prix or, specially this year, the FIFA World Cup final to take place in Rio de Janeiro in mid July 2014. The purpose of this workshop is to get a glimpse of the general legal framework applicable to the safety aspects of big sports events in different jurisdictions.

COMMISSION: Sports Law

GENERAL REPORTER: José Luis Martin

14.30 – 16.00 WORKSHOP F

Yes, I'cahn: shareholder activists at the gates / Financing at the cross roads: Regulatory changes for banking and finance

Activist shareholders' public and vocal battles with company management have been grabbing newspaper headlines in the United States for years, and now shareholder activism is brewing in other jurisdictions. This session will run through recent developments, explain what should be keeping your clients up at night and suggest what you can do to help clients to anticipate and prepare for the storm on the horizon and even use these new tools to advance their own agendas.

Basel III aims to strengthen bank capital requirements by increasing liquidity and decreasing bank leverage. Our workshop will look at the different level of implementation of Basel III in different jurisdictions. We will also see how Alternative Investment Funds are required to improve protection of investors by increasing and enhancing the obligations that its managers face. During the session we will also analyze whether (and how) these measures may affect access to traditional finance by your clients as well as the competitiveness of financial institutions.

8.00 – 9.00 MEMBERSHIP FORUM

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 7
Public Procurement of infrastructure projects
and energy projects

Practitioners advising public entities on legal issues regarding large infrastructural project are, besides contractual issues, facing a massive legal framework of rules concerning public procurement. The legal framework for European practitioners is, though disguised in national legislation, deriving from EU Directives. New directives were decided spring 2014 and are to be implemented in the national legislations. The seminar will deal with the possible impact of the new directives on public procurement of large infrastructural and energy projects, tricky issues when procuring these projects as well as sharing of experiences from the real world by invited speakers, from the employer's side as well as from the contractor's side.

COMMISSIONS: International Business Law / Environmental and Energy Law

GENERAL REPORTERS: Per-Ola Bergqvist and Jan Rolinski

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 8
Counsels' Role in International Arbitration
Proceedings

Whether you are an outside or an in-house counsel, your main task in international arbitration proceedings is to present (or to ensure that outside counsel presents) your case to the arbitral tribunal in the best way possible to secure a positive outcome. However, the end does not always justify the means. Besides tactical considerations, in his/her interaction with the client, the opposing party and its counsel, the arbitral tribunal as well as potential witnesses and experts, counsel must obey certain ethics rules. What those rules are, their nature and whether they apply to outside counsel and in-house counsel alike will be explored in depth. The working session will address potential remedies for misconduct and a focus will be placed on the relevance of the recently published and much discussed IBA Guidelines on Party Representation in International Arbitration. The working session will moreover place a particular emphasis on the critical interaction between outside counsel and in-house counsel, as particularly delicate ethical issues may arise in this interaction.

9.00 – 12.00 WORKING SESSION 9
Communications with the Tax Authorities, both
Preliminary/Consultative and Contentious

Tax authorities – surely each one of us had the pleasure to deal with one: as taxpayer at least with the tax authority of the country you are resident of, as a lawyer helping others in tax matters you might have had the chance to deal with the tax authorities of other countries as well. If the latter is the case you might have seen some differences in the behavior of the different tax authorities. You might have realized that the tax authorities in some or even the majority of the countries do treat the taxpayers not as their customers or clients but rather as subordinates. In such cases the communications tends to be rather hierarchical and often results in administrative proceedings against the tax authorities with more or less success. Other countries have realized that treating the taxpayer in ways like we know from the tale of Robin Hood and the Sheriff of Nottingham only results in the tax payers trying to circumvent their tax obligations. Some countries, thus, have not only reduced the taxes in their countries but treat the taxpayers as their clients.

These – sometimes very significant – differences are what we are focusing on.
